EXCELLENCE IN EVIDENCE

Acclaimed & authoritative

The Oxford Journals Archive

Oxford University Press has been publishing high quality journal content at the forefront of academic research for well over a century. We are committed to aiding the dissemination of this research by digitizing the backfiles of the titles we publish to ensure that content is safeguarded for the future and that researchers can benefit by putting present day knowledge into context.

The Oxford Journals Archive features 177 of our titles, spanning 147 years of research more than four million online article pages.

Joining the archive in 2012

Eight journals will be joining the Oxford Journals Archive package in 2012.

European Journal of Cardio-Thoracic Surgery

Publishing since 1987

The primary aim of the European Journal of Cardio-Thoracic Surgery is to provide a medium for the publication of high-quality original scientific reports documenting progress in cardiac and thoracic surgery. The journal publishes reports of significant clinical and experimental advances related to surgery of the heart, the great vessels and the chest. The journal is supported by a number of leading European societies.

Published on behalf of the European Association for Cardio-Thoracic Surgery.

Bulletin of the London Mathematical Society

Publishing since 1969

A well-established journal with coverage extending across the whole range of pure mathematics, together with some more applied areas of analysis, theoretical computing, and mathematical physics. Founded in 1969, the Bulletin of the London Mathematical Society publishes important short research articles, authoritative survey articles, and advanced expositions, often of an extensive nature, reviewing all major developments over many years. Occasional biographical articles are also published on the lives and achievements of distinguished mathematicians. The Bulletin has a substantial book review section covering books in applied mathematics and statistics as well as pure mathematics.

Published on behalf of the London Mathematical Society.

Journal of Social History

Publishing since 1967

The Journal of Social History has served as one of the leading outlets for work in this growing research field since its inception over 40 years ago. JSH publishes articles in social history from all areas and periods, and has played an important role in integrating work in Latin American, African, Asian and Russian history with sociohistorical analysis in Western Europe and the United States.

Journal of the London Mathematical Society

Publishing since 1926

Founded in 1926 the Journal of the London Mathematical Society has a reputation for publishing some of the highest quality research on the whole spectrum of mathematics. The Journal has a wide scope which ranges from number theory to functional analysis, from finite simple groups to the mathematical foundations of quantum theory, and from logic and topos theory to the topology of Lie groups.

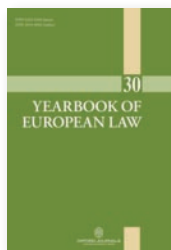

Published on behalf of the London Mathematical Society.

Yearbook of European Law

Publishing since 1981

The Yearbook of European Law seeks to promote the dissemination of ideas and provide a forum for legal discourse in the wider area of European law. It reflects diverse theoretical approaches towards the study of law. The Yearbook published contributions in the following broad areas: the law of the European Union, the European Convention for the Protection of Human Rights, related aspects of international law, and comparative laws of Europe.

Proceedings of the London Mathematical Society

Publishing since 1865

Published since 1865, the Proceedings of the London Mathematical Society covers a wide range of mathematical topics that include real and complex analysis, differential equations and related areas, topology, geometry, logic, probability, statistics, algebra, number theory, and combinatorial theory.

Published on behalf of the London Mathematical Society.

Yearbook of International Environmental Law

Publishing since 1991

The Yearbook of International Environmental Law is a vital source of information and analysis in the crucial and rapidly evolving field that is environmental law. YIEL provides an authoritative and comprehensive review of internationally significant environmental legal developments, gathering national and international experts who report on a year-by-year basis.

Social Forces

Publishing since 1922

Published in partnership with the Department of Sociology at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, Social Forces is recognized as a global leader among social research journals. The journal emphasizes cutting-edge sociological inquiry and explores realms the discipline shares with psychology, anthropology, political science, history, and economics.

Features & benefits

Including content published between 1849 and 1995, the Oxford Journals Archive represents outstanding value for money and comes with a range of features for librarians from usage statistics to perpetual access. With online content hosted by our partners at HighWire Press, library users also benefit from the latest tools designed to enhance the research experience.

How the Oxford Journals Archive can benefit your library:

- save shelf space by replacing the print volume with the online version
- fill in the gaps in your library's holdings
- purchase the archive outright to retain perpetual access.
- flexible purchasing options: choose to subscribe to or purchase the complete archive, or one or more of the five subject packages
- monitor usage with our COUNTER-compliant reports.

Libraries who also hold a subscription to the Oxford Journals Collection (content published from 1996 to the present day) will be able to complete their collection of OUP journals content and provide seamless access.

Some of the many features for your library users:

- access content by IP range, or remotely via Athens and Shibboleth
- integrated searching across other online content platforms such as Google Scholar and PubMed
- downloadable references using EndNote, ProCite, BibTeX or RefWorks
- links from author search results to Google Scholar
- toll-free linking from citations to any journal hosted by HighWire Press.

The Medicine Archive

Key facts:

- 118 years of knowledge (1878 to 1995)
- 52 journals
- more than 1.2 million article pages

International in scope, the Medicine Archive will appeal to those working in both clinical and research settings. It features high impact titles across a variety of fields from oncology, cardiology, neurology, and epidemiology to reproductive medicine, rheumatology, anaesthesia, gerontology, and public health.

What will you discover in the Oxford Journals Archive?

The Oxford Journals Archive includes articles written by some of the biggest names in their respective fields. Many of them were cutting-edge at the time and represent a fascinating insight into past academic thought, revealing how present knowledge has been developed.

- an example of the impact of war on medical progress
- a key study on a new technique that went on to change the face of infertility treatment
- an article about Charles Darwin by his son
- a message from Winston Churchill
- a comprehensive analysis of a hugely significant episode in the history of physics
- an article by a man considered to be the father of modern computer science

Purchasing options and pricing

Step one: contact us!

Email institutionalsales@oup.com or contact your local OUP representative (see back page of the brochure) as your library may be eligible for substantial discounts if you are part of a consortium. Our representatives will guide you through the next steps of our purchasing and access options.

Step two: choose either the complete archive, or one or more of the subject packages

The complete Oxford Journals Archive – features the backfiles of all 177 journals listed in this brochure and costs significantly less than acquiring each subject package individually.

One or more of the subject packages – more suitable for the specialised library. Select one or more of the five subject packages and receive greater discounts the more that you purchase or subscribe to.

Step three: choose to subscribe to the archive or purchase it outright

Subscribe – pay an annual subscription fee to access the complete archive, or one or more of the five subject packages.

Purchase outright – our most popular access option which allows libraries to pay a one-off fee for perpetual use of the content.

Step four: choose to allow OUP to host the archive content for you, or decide to do it yourself

Allow OUP to host the archive content remotely – our most popular option where libraries can benefit from the latest tools designed to enhance the research experience with content hosted by our partners at HighWire Press. This service is free and compulsory for those who choose to subscribe to the archive. Libraries who choose to purchase the archive outright will be required to pay an annual hosting fee if they would like OUP to host the content for them.

Host the archive content locally – only available to libraries who purchase the archive outright. Content will be delivered on a removable hard disk provided by OUP, but you will need your own content management system to host it.

Remember to contact us later in the year to find out which new journals will have been added to the archive in 2013!
