HIGHLIGHTS FROM THE OXFORD JOURNALS HUMANITIES COLLECTION

Environmental History

Publishing since 1996, 4 issues per year.

This quarterly, interdisciplinary journal addresses issues relating to human interactions with the natural world over time, and includes insights from history, geography, anthropology, the natural sciences, and many other disciplines. Published on behalf of the American Society for Environmental History and the Forest History Society.

The Journal of American History

Publishing since 1914, 4 issues per year.

The Journal of American History is the leading scholarly publication and the journal of record in the field of American history. The large board of international contributing editors helps the journal meet its goal of situating American history within a global context. Published on behalf of the Organization of American Historians.

Journal of Church & State

Publishing since 1959, 4 issues per year.

This journal stimulates interest, dialogue, research, and publication in the broad area of religion and the state. It publishes constitutional, historical, philosophical, theological, and sociological studies on religion and the body politic in various countries and cultures of the world, including the United States. Published on behalf of J. M. Dawson Institute of Church-State Studies at Baylor University.

Mind

Publishing since 1876, 4 issues per year.

Mind has long been a leading journal in philosophy. For well over 100 years it has published the best new work in all areas of the subject, including epistemology, metaphysics, logic, ethics, philosophy of mind, philosophy of language, philosophy of science, and the history of philosophy.

The journal continues its tradition of excellence today. Mind is published quarterly on behalf of the Mind Association.

Journal of Social History - NEW

Publishing since 1967, 4 issues per year.

The Journal of Social History has served as one of the leading outlets for work in this growing research field since its inception over 40 years ago. JSH publishes articles in social history from all areas and periods, and has played an important role in integrating work in Latin American, African, Asian and Russian history with sociohistorical analysis in Western Europe and the United States.

Classical Receptions Journal

Publishing since 2009, 2 issues per year.

This journal explores the relationships between transmission, interpretation, translation, transplantation, rewriting, redesigning and rethinking of Greek and Roman material in other contexts and cultures from antiquity to the present day. It addresses the implications both for the receiving contexts and for the ancient, and compares different types of linguistic, textual and ideological interactions.
