STEP 1 – THE LICENCE TO PUBLISH

Please tick either Box A or Box B

BOX A: to be completed if copyright belongs to the Author or the Author's employer.

You hereby grant to OUP an exclusive licence of the full period of copyright throughout the world. In particular, this provides OUP with the right:

- to publish the final version of the Article in the above Journal, and to distribute it and/or to communicate it to the public, either within the Journal, on its own, or with other related material throughout the world, in printed, electronic or any other format or medium whether now known or hereafter devised;
- to make translations and abstracts of the Article and to distribute them to the public;
- to authorize or grant licences to third parties to do any of the above;
- to deposit copies of the Article in online archives maintained by OUP or by third parties authorized by OUP.

You authorize us to act on your behalf to defend the copyright in the Article if anyone should infringe it and to register the copyright of the Article in the US and other countries, if necessary.

In the case of a multi authored article, you confirm that you are authorized by your co-authors to enter this licence on their behalf

BOX B: to be completed if the Article is protected by UK Crown Copyright, is in the public domain (e.g. US Government Publications) or cannot be fully licensed as requested above. Please briefly indicate the reasons here.

RETAINED RIGHTS (no need to return this page)

As the Author(s), copyright in the Article remains yours (or your employer's if your employer claims copyright in your work).

After the article has been published in the Journal in printed form you are entitled to reuse parts (but not the whole) of the Article, free of charge, in other publications written by yourself, providing that a full acknowledgement is given to the Journal and to Oxford University Press. This right is granted on the understanding that you do not sell or give away the article in ways that would conflict directly with our commercial business interests

USE OF POST-PRINTS (as defined in the Notes below)

You may post the POST-PRINT version of the Article (but not the published version itself) onto your own website, your institution's website and in institutional or subject-based repositories, such as PubMed Central or the Oxford Eprints service, PROVIDED THAT it is not made publicly available until 24 MONTHS after the online date of publication, and that: (1) you include a link (url) to the published version of the Article on the Journal's website; (2) the Journal is attributed as the original place of publication with the correct citation details given.

FREE LINK TO PUBLISHED ARTICLE

On publication of your article, you will receive a URL, giving you access to the published article on the Journal website, and information on use of this link.

EDUCATIONAL USE

You may use the Article within your employer's institution or company for educational or research purposes only, including use in course-packs, as long as: (1) you do not use it for commercial purposes or re-distribution outside of the institution/company; (2) you acknowledge the Journal as the original place of publication with the correct citation details given.

http://www.oxfordjournals.org/access\_purchase/publication\_rights.html

Notes (please read)

- 1 No article will be published unless an assignment form has been signed. As the Author(s), copyright in the Article remains yours (or your employer's if your employer claims copyright in your work).
- 2 Full details of Oxford Journals' Publications Rights Policies including self-archiving rights for authors can be found at http://www.oxfordjournals.org/access\_purchase/publication\_rights.html and/or in the Instructions to Authors for the journal concerned.
