Special offer for AGA members

Page charges for one article per volume will be waived if any one of the authors of your article is a member of the American Genetic Association. This form is your last chance to receive a waiver of page charges for this article by joining the AGA. Please return both pages of the form with payment for your page charges, offprint order, and membership with your proofs. You must return this form with payment before your article can be published.

Are there AGA members among the authors of your article?  yes  no

If you checked no, you may use this form to join the AGA and receive a page charge waiver or simply complete the first page of the form and return both pages with payment for your page charges and offprint order.

If you checked yes, please enter all the AGA member authors' names in the appropriate blanks on the bottom of the preceding page and use the steps below to calculate your page charges. Please note that all AGA member authors are eligible for only one free article (up to eight pages) per volume; if any of the AGA member authors of your article has had an article waived earlier in the volume, charges for the current article cannot be waived. If your article is eligible for a waiver, please write "waived" in the charges blank on the preceding page.

Would any of the authors of your article like to become AGA members? In addition to waivers of page charges for the Journal of Heredity (up to one article per volume as described above), AGA members receive a subscription to the journal. Membership is US$67 per person annually. To join:

1. Fill in the information below.
2. Enter the new members' names in the appropriate blanks on the bottom of the preceding page.
3. Add the US$67 per person membership fee to the tally of charges on the preceding page.
