

How to become a reviewer for Literature & Theology

Literature and Theology provides a forum for interdisciplinary dialogue inviting both close textual analysis and broader theoretical speculation as ways of exploring how religion is embedded within culture. Contributions, addressing questions of interest to both the disciplines of literature and theology, are encouraged to confront and challenge traditional modes of discourse within a wide range of related fields, encompassing biblical criticism, literary criticism, philosophy, politics, history, cultural studies and contemporary critical theory or practice.

If you are currently involved in academic research in any of these areas of expertise and would like to review for the Journal, we would be interested in hearing from you. To contact us please answer the following basic questions listed below by mail or email to:

Fiona Darroch
Department of Religious Studies
University of Stirling
Stirling, FK9 4LA.
Email: f.j.darroch@stir.ac.uk

- Name
- Address
- Email address
- Title
- Institutional Affiliation
- Current research interests
- Would you be willing to review books chosen by the editorial team?
- Would you prefer to suggest titles for review (publication date within the last 12 months preferred)?